

ANOTHER COLORED POLICEMAN

Philip W. Hadley Among Brooklyn's Eighteen Appointees.

He is the Third to Be Placed on the Force.

Eighteen new policemen were appointed this morning by Commissioner Hayden, of the police department. Among the new appointees was Philip W. Hadley, a colored man. Hadley stood well up to the top of the Civil Service list, with 75 per cent. to his credit.

He was vouched for by T. Thomas Fortune, the colored editor, and T. M. McLean, the colored lawyer and member of the Brooklyn Board of Education.

Hadley was sent to the Twelfth Precinct, headquarters on Atlantic avenue. The other colored policemen are Wiley G. Overton and James F. Cobb.

The full list of new policemen, with the precincts in which they will do duty, is as follows:

Bernard McMorro, 70 Third street, Third Precinct.

Alfred Braunbeck, 91 South Eighteenth street, Nineteenth Precinct.

Thomas Green, 125 Clymer street, Sixteenth Precinct.

John J. 335 Huron street, Thirteenth Precinct.

Philip W. Hadley, 440 Adelphi street, Twelfth Precinct.

James E. 121, 60 Newell street, Thirteenth Precinct.

John Buckholz, 648 Bushwick avenue, Seventeenth Precinct.

Chas. A. Cook, 208 Forty-ninth street, Eight Precinct.

J. J. Kierahan, 30 Carlton avenue, Fourth Precinct.

James E. Colper, 2234 Thirty-fourth street, Tenth Precinct.

John H. 84 Ryerson street, Fourth Precinct.

Frederick Pilon, 29 Bedford avenue, Fourteenth Precinct.

J. B. Cornelius, 189 Java street, Twentieth Precinct.

Wm. K. Scott, 126 Normana avenue, Seventh Precinct.

John V. Gartland, 93 Haverley street, Fifth Precinct.

John Krummacker, 300 Evergreen avenue, Twentieth Precinct.

John S. Hickey, 34 Pennsylvania avenue, Nineteenth Precinct.

John C. Daniels, 107 Rutledge street, Fourth Precinct.

THREATENED TO SHOOT HER.

One of Mrs. Loffler's Reasons for Asking a Separation.

Catherine Loffler is suing her husband, Charles Loffler, for a separation, in the City Court, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Loffler alleges that her husband is a real estate agent at 35 Wall street, New York, that he is worth $15,000, and has an income of $1,500 a year.

The couple were married July 4, 1870, and have six children, three sons and three daughters, all under the age of twenty years.

Mrs. Loffler says that she left her husband two weeks ago, because he threatened to shoot her, and that he has frequently come home in an intoxicated condition.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

End of C. J. Mulcare, an Old-Time Bandmaster.

C. J. Mulcare, an old-time bandmaster, was found dead in bed at 100 Rockwell place, Brooklyn, early this morning. Heart disease is given as the cause of death.

Mulcare had been living with his wife for some time, and had taken board at the house of Mrs. Campbell, where he died.

Mrs. Mulcare lives at 210 Bergen street.

Opening of the Iron Pier Season.

The iron pier steamboats have begun their regular trips from Pier No. 1, near Battery Park, to Coney Island, and will run fourteen boats daily and seventeen on Sundays, excursion tickets cost 50 cents. Two boats of this line also ply between Pier No. 1 and Belden Point, making six trips daily.

SHIPPING NEWS.

ALMANAC FOR TO-DAY.

Low water, 6:37 N. Y. time, 7:31 M. time.

High water, 10:41 A. M., 11:45 P. M.

Low water, 12:50 P. M., 1:54 P. M.

High water, 2:50 P. M., 3:54 P. M.

Low water, 5:50 P. M., 6:54 P. M.

High water, 8:50 P. M., 9:54 P. M.

Low water, 11:50 P. M., 12:54 A. M.

High water, 1:50 A. M., 2:54 A. M.

Low water, 3:50 A. M., 4:54 A. M.

High water, 5:50 A. M., 6:54 A. M.

Low water, 7:50 A. M., 8:54 A. M.

High water, 9:50 A. M., 10:54 A. M.

Low water, 11:50 A. M., 12:54 P. M.

High water, 1:50 P. M., 2:54 P. M.

Low water, 3:50 P. M., 4:54 P. M.

High water, 5:50 P. M., 6:54 P. M.

Low water, 7:50 P. M., 8:54 P. M.

High water, 9:50 P. M., 10:54 P. M.

Low water, 11:50 P. M., 12:54 A. M.

High water, 1:50 A. M., 2:54 A. M.

Low water, 3:50 A. M., 4:54 A. M.

High water, 5:50 A. M., 6:54 A. M.

Low water, 7:50 A. M., 8:54 A. M.

THREE MORNING SUICIDES.

Potts Hanged Himself When He Found His Wife Was Dead.

Mrs. Belz Ends Her Life by Taking Paris Green.

Three suicides were reported to the police of the metropolis to-day, but none of them was attended with such tragic circumstances as that of Gustave Potts, a decorator fifty-two years old, of 842 Tinton avenue, Morrisania. Over the death of his wife, Anna, Potts's body was found hanging to a tree on the White estate, about ten minutes' walk from his home. The policeman who discovered the body, it is down immediately, but was too late, the body was cold and stiff.

Papers on his person disclosed his identity and policemen from the Morrisania station went to notify his wife. To their surprise and horror they found her dead in her chair, while the air in the room smelled strongly of coal gas that had escaped from the gas-king.

Instantly the police came to the conclusion that both husband and wife had planned together to end their lives at the same moment, but investigation by an EYEWITNESS would report this morning indicates the contrary.

Relatives of both husband and wife say that there was no reason for either to commit suicide. They lived happily together, and although Potts had been out of work for three weeks, he made good wages when he did work, and had saved up some thing for a rainy day.

They think Mrs. Potts died of heart disease or possibly was asphyxiated by coal gas. Potts left home yesterday afternoon and did not return until between 8 and 9 o'clock last night.

Neighbors saw him enter the house then, and it is believed that his wife was then dead, and that the terrible discovery drove him to take his own life.

Mrs. Potts was about fifty years old. Yerville came to the hotel last night and returned to his room on the second floor at 11 o'clock. A chambermaid shuffled gasping from Yerville's room at 8 o'clock this morning and she notified the landlord.

The door of the room was forced in, and the old man was found lying on the bed. The room was full of gas, and the burner was turned on full. He was breathing hard, but was unconscious. An ambulance was summoned from Bellevue Hospital, but the man died before it reached the hotel.

The police believe that Yerville committed suicide. There was nothing, however, found on his person to show that he had deliberately taken his life.

Pippo Allegro, an Italian shoemaker, sixty-two years old, was found suffering from heart disease in the basement of 254 Second avenue, where he worked this morning. The police arrested him on a charge of having attempted suicide and took him to Bellevue Hospital.

Dr. H. Wackerbarth, of 90 Second avenue, reported to the coroners' office this morning that a woman named Mrs. Belz had committed suicide at her home, 104 West 12th street, by taking a dose of Paris Green.

Mrs. Belz took the poison while her husband was out of the house. The neighbors heard her suffering from the effects of the poison, and the physician Dr. Wackerbarth, who succeeded in pumping all the poison out of her system.

Mrs. Belz is a musician in Anton Seid's orchestra. She was forty years old and had no children. Her husband was a carpenter and was employed by the same firm. A reason assigned for her act is that she was dependent on her husband for her support, and that he had been unemployed for some time.

Her father, who was called for Germany last Saturday.

FIRE IN THE "MURDER HOUSE"

Crowds at the Scene of the Boschinsky Tragedy.

Many Were Injured by the Collapse of a Pile of Lumber.

There was a scene of great excitement early this morning in the foreign colony of Williamsburg, caused by the burning in the rear of the scene of the Boschinsky murder taking fire from some unknown cause.

Thousands of the residents of the neighborhood, the population of which is intensely superstitious, crowded the streets and yelled that the fire was caused by Divine Providence.

The blaze was in the rear of 35 Moore street. The building at that number is in process of being torn down, because no one can be found to occupy the "Murder House" as it was designated on account of the killing there Dec. 1st last of Mrs. Freda Boschinsky and her four-year-old boy.

The frame house, in which the fire started, was owned by Jacob Wertheim and occupied by Moses Weiss. The damage to the building was slight, but the firemen were unable to determine how the fire started.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

FLAMES, SPREAD BY A GALE.

St. John's, N. F., Is Swept by an All-Devouring Blaze.

3,000 People Homeless—Public Buildings and Churches Burned.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

St. John's, N. F., July 9.—It is impossible to estimate accurately, as yet, the damage done by a gale-swept fire which started yesterday among the old wooden houses on Long's Hill.

The fire was spreading on a hill at the beginning, since it had plenty of timber at hand, but even so, it might have been controlled but for the gale which was blowing.

As it was, sparks were carried and scattered among the flimsy structures on the hill and in a score of places, all in line for a fresh flame towards the heart of the city, fresh flames broke out.

By 8 o'clock in the evening more than five hundred buildings, including most of the principal edifices in the city, had been destroyed.

Among the buildings swept away were the following: the new Methodist College and boarding hall, valued at $40,000; the Gower Street Methodist church; the splendid and unfinished cathedral of the Anglican church, on which $250,000 had already been spent; Orange Hall and the palace of Bishop Jones; the Supreme Court-house and Police headquarters; the Athenaeum Building, which the Government offices and Savings Bank; the Union Bank Building, the Commercial Bank, the Telegram office, the great Catholic cathedral, whose twin towers with fully ablaze added to the superb spectacle presented by the white-swept flames.

Besides these, great business houses and dwellings were burned, so that at this writing it is estimated more than three thousand people are homeless.

Telephone communication was interrupted for three last night, the old offices being burned. A new office was opened this morning. Meanwhile, the Parliamentary building had been added to the list of burned structures.

There was nothing, however, found on his person to show that he had deliberately taken his life.

Pippo Allegro, an Italian shoemaker, sixty-two years old, was found suffering from heart disease in the basement of 254 Second avenue, where he worked this morning. The police arrested him on a charge of having attempted suicide and took him to Bellevue Hospital.

Dr. H. Wackerbarth, of 90 Second avenue, reported to the coroners' office this morning that a woman named Mrs. Belz had committed suicide at her home, 104 West 12th street, by taking a dose of Paris Green.

Mrs. Belz took the poison while her husband was out of the house. The neighbors heard her suffering from the effects of the poison, and the physician Dr. Wackerbarth, who succeeded in pumping all the poison out of her system.

Mrs. Belz is a musician in Anton Seid's orchestra. She was forty years old and had no children. Her husband was a carpenter and was employed by the same firm. A reason assigned for her act is that she was dependent on her husband for her support, and that he had been unemployed for some time.

Her father, who was called for Germany last Saturday.

FIRE IN THE "MURDER HOUSE"

Crowds at the Scene of the Boschinsky Tragedy.

Many Were Injured by the Collapse of a Pile of Lumber.

There was a scene of great excitement early this morning in the foreign colony of Williamsburg, caused by the burning in the rear of the scene of the Boschinsky murder taking fire from some unknown cause.

Thousands of the residents of the neighborhood, the population of which is intensely superstitious, crowded the streets and yelled that the fire was caused by Divine Providence.

The blaze was in the rear of 35 Moore street. The building at that number is in process of being torn down, because no one can be found to occupy the "Murder House" as it was designated on account of the killing there Dec. 1st last of Mrs. Freda Boschinsky and her four-year-old boy.

The frame house, in which the fire started, was owned by Jacob Wertheim and occupied by Moses Weiss. The damage to the building was slight, but the firemen were unable to determine how the fire started.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

As soon as it became known that the fire was started, men, women and children in their hundreds came flocking to the scene to watch the progress of the flames. Many people collected on a pile of lumber which was being used for building a new house, and several people who were hurt, though none were seriously injured.

There were eleven years ago, of 23 Even street, sustained bruises on the right leg and foot which may necessitate amputation.

RUN DOWN BY THE CEPHEUS.

Four Men Thrown Out of a Row-boat, Two Are Drowned.

The Accident Occurred Off Liberty Island and Will Be Investigated.

It was definitely ascertained this morning that two men lost their lives as a result of the running down of a boat containing four men off of Liberty Island last night by the iron steamboat Cephæus.

The drowned men are: SINKY WEEKS, of Twenty-second street and Fifth avenue.

ANONYMOUS ZAHN, of Thirteenth street and Fifth avenue, Brooklyn.

The two men saved were Theodore Zahn, of Thirteenth street, and Fifth avenue, and Henry C. Nichols, of 351 Fifth avenue, South Brooklyn. They were picked up after the accident by Capt. Morrissey of the tug Cyclops, who landed them at Pier 1, early this morning. From them were learned the names of the other occupants of the boat.

Up to noon neither body had been recovered.

Theodore Zahn told Capt. Morrissey that the four men had hired the rowboat yesterday afternoon at the foot of Twentieth street, South Brooklyn, and rowed across to Liberty Island, where they spent some time, and about 8:30 in the evening they started to return to South Brooklyn.

The steamboat struck the rowboat at the way of the steamer, but before they could realize it was close upon them. They struggled hard to save themselves. The tug Cyclops, who landed them at Pier 1, early this morning. From them were learned the names of the other occupants of the boat.

Up to noon neither body had been recovered.

Theodore Zahn told Capt. Morrissey that the four men had hired the rowboat yesterday afternoon at the foot of Twentieth street, South Brooklyn, and rowed across to Liberty Island, where they spent some time, and about 8:30 in the evening they started to return to South Brooklyn.

The steamboat struck the rowboat at the way of the steamer, but before they could realize it was close upon them. They struggled hard to save themselves. The tug Cyclops, who landed them at Pier 1, early this morning. From them were learned the names of the other occupants of the boat.

Up to noon neither body had been recovered.

Theodore Zahn told Capt. Morrissey that the four men had hired the rowboat yesterday afternoon at the foot of Twentieth street, South Brooklyn, and rowed across to Liberty Island, where they spent some time, and about 8:30 in the evening they started to return to South Brooklyn.

The steamboat struck the rowboat at the way of the steamer, but before they could realize it was close upon them. They struggled hard to save themselves. The tug Cyclops, who landed them at Pier 1, early this morning. From them were learned the names of the other occupants of the boat.

Up to noon neither body had been recovered.

Theodore Zahn told Capt. Morrissey that the four men had hired the rowboat yesterday afternoon at the foot of Twentieth street, South Brooklyn, and rowed across to Liberty Island, where they spent some time, and about 8:30 in the evening they started to return to South Brooklyn.

The steamboat struck the rowboat at the way of the steamer, but before they could realize it was close upon them. They struggled hard to save themselves. The tug Cyclops, who landed them at Pier 1, early this morning. From them were learned the names of the other occupants of the boat.

Up to noon neither body had been recovered.

Theodore Zahn told Capt. Morrissey that the four men had hired the rowboat yesterday afternoon at the foot of Twentieth street, South Brooklyn, and rowed across to Liberty Island, where they spent some time, and about 8:30 in the evening they started to return to South Brooklyn.

The steamboat struck the rowboat at the way of the steamer, but before they could realize it was close upon them. They struggled hard to save themselves. The tug Cyclops, who landed them at Pier 1, early this morning. From them were learned the names of the other occupants of the boat.

Up to noon neither body had been recovered.

Theodore Zahn told Capt. Morrissey that the four men had hired the rowboat yesterday afternoon at the foot of Twentieth street, South Brooklyn, and rowed across to Liberty Island, where they spent some time, and about 8:30 in the evening they started to return to South Brooklyn.

The steamboat struck the rowboat at the way of the steamer, but before they could realize it was close upon them. They struggled hard to save themselves. The tug Cyclops, who landed them at Pier 1, early this morning. From them were learned the names of the other occupants of the boat